Subject: National Aquifer Exemption Database - Call with Joe Tiago

Hi David,

I had a call with Joe Tiago this morning in response to my note. I pointed out the issue with the database of AEs that I had noticed. Joe indicated that Cadmus is no longer involved in this effort, so I am going to provide him with the list of the exemptions that were mistakenly included in the database and he will delete them – these are the non-hydrocarbon zones that were included in the CA Primacy Application Table 1 that ended up not being exempted in the MOA.

While I was on the phone I also asked about how I could search the database to double check to see if the three CA formations that were exempted post-primacy were included in the database because there did not seem to be an easy way to do that. Joe said I could do it by year and look for post-1986. While we were on the phone he did just that and none of the post 1986 exemptions included San Ardo, Asphalt and McCool Ranch. I told him I would send along the exemption packages for those since we had just gotten those together for the GAO and they can add those to the database.

David can I have those packages?
